

Cardiff reeve resigns from road committee

Three deputy reeves, including Cardiff's, would lose recorded vote on money matters

by Sue Cooper
Staff Reporter

Cardiff reeve Malcolm McGillivray has resigned from the county road committee in protest over a county council resolution that would decrease his township's voting power if a new Haliburton County Act is established.

McGillivray said Tuesday that he resigned his only committee membership after county council passed a resolution last Wednesday that would deny deputy-reeves in Cardiff, Monmouth and Snowdon a vote during recorded votes on money matters if the structure of the county is changed. County councillors who favour a change in voting believe redistribution will remedy present inequities. Larger municipalities including Dysart et al, Anson, Hindon and Minden and Stanhope, feel their voting power does not reflect realistically the number of residents in their areas.

McGillivray registered the only nay vote to the resolution introduced by Dysart et al reeve Murray Fearrey.

"I felt as if one man had too much weight in the county; he was leading the county," McGillivray said in explaining the reason for his committee resignation.

"They want to take the vote away from three deputy-reeves, that's Cardiff, Snowdon and Monmouth. Our three votes don't hurt anyway. That (the resolution) hurt me. I think it was a very selfish, mean trick," McGillivray said.

McGillivray said he objected strongly to the resolution because the steering committee invited a provincial government official to explain the voting distribution to the committee. McGillivray felt the official should have been invited to county council as many members might have wished to query him on the proposed changes. He added that he did not think council should receive that type of information "second hand".

Under the new resolution, the deputy-reeves will only lose their voting power on money matters if the "provisional" title is dropped from Haliburton County. McGillivray said to the best of his knowledge, his deputy-reeve, Mack Peters, had not resigned his county council committee duties.

McGillivray, who has sat on county council for 14 years, served as county warden in 1972 and again in 1980. He said he did not feel the redistribution of votes was fair to the small townships.

"They (the larger townships) are trying to freeze us (the smaller townships) out. I think the reeve of Dysart had the biggest majority of the council brainwashed," he said.

"Ever since I've been at county council, in 14 years on the steering committee, Dysart always had a member. They've always had a member on the budget committee, they always had a member on the roads committee, and they always had a member on the (Hyland Crest Senior Citizens') home committee. And they're the only important committees that we've got at county council. So, what are they beefing about?" McGillivray said.

"They've never been deprived of anything; sure they have enough say," he added.

McGillivray said he felt only three township had been chosen to lose a part of their votes because if five or six townships could possibly lose their deputy-reeve, the resolution would not have been passed. "I don't approve of it at all," he said.

McGillivray did not feel his resignation was unfair to voters in his township, and added only

County may alter vote

Redistribution allows larger municipalities more say in how taxpayers' money is spent Haliburton County council has agreed to change its voting structure if a new Haliburton County Act is passed, but the move proved a controversial one.

Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey, who introduced the motion to change the distribution of votes among county councillors, termed it a compromise that would retain all deputy reeves on council but partially redress an imbalance that puts the bulk of voting power in the hands of small municipalities providing less than half of the county's funds.

Under the scheme proposed by Fearrey, the number of votes would remain at 29 among the 19 members of council for most issues. When a recorded vote is called on money matters, however deputy reeves in Cardiff, Snowdon and Monmouth would not be allowed to register an opinion.

The Dysart reeve noted that the change falls far short of reflecting individual municipal assessments, and that Dysart, Anson, Hindon and Minden, and Stanhope, which provide more than 60 percent of the county's funds would still have only 40 percent of the vote on money matters.

He termed his proposal "a very, very big compromise" from voting possibilities spelled out in the Municipal Act which would have eliminated the Cardiff, Monmouth and Snowdon deputy reeves from council under one option, or all deputy reeves under a second option.

Under the proposed revision, at least one of the smaller municipalities in the county would have to side with Dysart, Anson, Hindon and Minden and Stanhope townships to carry a vote on money matters.

But the proposal angered Cardiff reeve Mac McGillivray, who said it would mean he would only have to attend every second county council meeting.

(Deputy reeves in the three small townships would get the reeve's vote if he were absent.)

He also seized the opportunity to say he felt it was "ridiculous" that county council had voted to give the Chamber of Commerce $50,000 at a meeting he and his deputy reeve Mack Peters had missed.

Snowdon reeve Bob Vick could see no value in Fearrey's proposal.

"I never did believe in changing just for the sake of changing," Vick said. You're not saving anything for the county. You're not going to gain anything."

But Monmouth reeve Keith Tallman saw the change as a necessary step.

"It's a compromise we may have to accept," Tallman told council.

Fearrey was dismayed by some councillors' reaction to his proposal.

"The tail's wagging the dog right now, and it appears that we're being selfish and we want it to stay that way," Fearrey said, adding that maintaining the existing voting structure would not be fair to the people.

In the end, council agreed to include Fearrey's proposal if a new Haliburton Act is passed to move from provisional to full county status. Only Cardiff reeve Mac McGillivray registered a 'nay' vote.

Until a new Haliburton Act becomes law, the present voting structure will remain in place.

Under it, Anson, Hindon and Minden, Dysart and Stanhope each have four votes, Cardiff, Glamorgan, Lutterworth and Sherborne have three votes, Snowdon and Monmouth have two votes, and the Improvement District of Bicroft has one vote.

Langton players celebrated with upraised arms as they received the trophy to mark the provincial title they won at the Dysart arena Saturday night. The Langton squad had trouble in the first period but came on strongly to take a 7-2 win over Haliburton. For more pictures and details, see page six.

Reeve compares Haliburton Act to constitution

Work toward a new Haliburton Act is getting as complicated as the Canadian Constitution, according to one county reeve, who appeared to liken Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey's efforts to those of Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau.

Snowdon reeve Bob Vick said Trudeau is "a dictator", adding that "it sounds like we're getting a dictator in Haliburton County".

Vick made the statement after Fearrey outlined progress the budget committee had made in dealing with problems surrounding a proposed move to full county status for the area.

Fearrey said the committee recently met Ted Foster, a senior policy advisor with the provincial Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing to discuss factors surrounding the proposed change, including judicial considerations, Crown land, council representation, Lawrence and Nightingale Townships and the Improvement District of Bicroft.

"We're pursuing every angle to ensure that there will be no adverse effects on the county," Fearrey said.

The Dysart reeve termed as "very unfortunate" the fact that director of education J. Douglas Hodgson outlined his concerns about transportation grants in a letter to council which was made available to the Minden Times.

Since the Times published a story based on Hodgson's letter, surrounding counties are "getting on the bandwagon" and pressing the Ministry of Education to increase the transportation grants, Fearrey said.

He urged municipalities to co-operate with MMAH officials if information is needed in preparing a study on the impact of full county status, and noted that the committee expects to have more to report at council's June meeting.

Balloon out for local park

Dysart's recreation committee has turned down a request from Skyline Rides Ltd. for permission to fly its hot air balloon from the ball field adjacent to the Dysart arena.

The request came in the form of a letter from ride owner Steve Bowskill, who planned to offer balloon rides as an added attraction to the Sky Slider in the coming tourist season.

But the committee rejected the request at a meeting April 13, chairman Brian Black said.

Black said some committee members did not support use of the park by private enter-

County awards dump study

Project cost set at $18,588, MOE to foot half the bill

Greer Galloway & Associates Limited has been awarded an $18,588 contract to complete an area wide waste management study for Haliburton County.

The study, which will receive 50 per cent funding from provincial environment ministry, is expected to take 22 weeks to complete, company officials told county councillors at a meeting last Wednesday.

Purpose of the study is to examine all aspects of waste management within the county, including the identification of potential dump sites in each municipality and consideration of alternate means of disposal, such as solid waste separation, incineration and recycling. It is expected to have a 20 year life, the company spokesman said.

Ecologist Greg Sheehy, who will manage the project, said a number of factors, including population variations, environmental restrictions, rising fuel costs and a depressed economy must be addressed if the study is to serve the county's needs.

"The management plan has to be flexible to identify immediate directions as well as an approach for long term goals," Sheehy said.

Initial step in the study will be to establish the county's waste disposal needs using population distribution as a base, Sheehy said. Waste handling options will then be identified, as will potential sites.

Sheehy said existing terrain mapping will be used to pinpoint areas of the county which are not suitable for waste disposal sites, and areas which could be suitable. Potential sites will then be examined in detail to determine capacity, access and development problems, and recommended operational methods. These could include landfill, incineration, separation, shredding, or a combination of techniques, Sheehy said.

In reply to a question from Snowdon deputy reeve John Francis, the project manager stressed that every attempt would be made to locate suitable dump sites within each township, or as close to municipal boundaries as possible.

Sheehy said councils are facing "increasing environmental regulations and restrictions, and that these would have to be taken into account when potential sites are identified.

Bob Clark, a planner who will be part of the study team, said the county's planning strategy and Dysart's official plan would be used to help identify waste generating areas so new dump sites can be located as close to those areas as possible.

The jurisdiction of those sites will also be considered in the study, Clark told council.

Snowdon deputy reeve John Francis sought assurance that the study would not identify sites which might be suitable for the disposal of toxic wastes. Francis said identifying such an area could give someone "a toe-hold" to try to bring toxic wastes to the county from outside industries.

But environment ministry official Frank Reinholz quelled the fear by stressing that the study was intended to deal only with domestic garbage and other waste material, such as sawdust, produced within the county.

"No hazardous wastes were addressed in the terms of reference," Reinholz said.

Work on the study is expected to begin immediately.

Man dies in van crash

A Snowdon Township man was killed and five other people were injured, two of them seriously, when a van left Highway 519 last Wednesday night and struck a telephone pole.

Dead is Gary Henry Robinson, 41, of Lot 30, Conc. 14, Snowdon Township.

Passengers Joanne Marchand and Ben Marchand, both 19, of Lochlin, suffered serious injuries, and were transferred to Peterborough Civic Hospital. Linda Marie Robinson, 34, driver of the vehicle, Gordon Robinson, 18, Tim Robinson, 16, all of Lot 30, conc. 14, Snowdon Township, and Brian Nicholson, 21, of Donald, suffered less serious injuries.

The seven were north-bound on Highway 519 at about 11 p.m. when the accident occurred.

Car hits rock

A Haliburton man escaped injury last Monday when his car left County Road #1 in Snowdon Township.

Raymond G. Selbie, 34, contacted the soft shoulder of the roadway and his car was pulled into a rock cut.

Damage was estimated at $2,500.

Thefts reported

A bicycle valued at $75 was stolen from behind stores in Minden on Friday night. The incident was reported at 8:15 a.m. Saturday.

A break-in at the Health Food Store in Minden was also discovered Saturday morning. Police say coins and a calculator valued at $40 were taken.

An attempted break-in at Hilltop store near Haliburton was also reported Saturday morning. The incidents remain under investigation.

Breakins discovered

Six breakins were reported to Minden OPP officers in the last week as people returned to their cottages for the first time this season.

There were also two trespass complaints and three complaints of loud music among the 60 general occurrences in the county during the week.

Seniors to share bus

Haliburton County Home Support Services and Hyland Crest Senior Citizen's Home are making an agreement that will see the home's bus used more by seniors throughout the county.

Transportation has often been a stumbling block for the home support services, and use of the home's bus may eliminate the problem, according to Haliburton County warden Ron Gambell. Gambell said he was approached over a month ago by home support organizer, Doris McCann, who asked if an arrangement might be made with the home since the bus has wheelchair capacity.

Home administrator, Sid Brown, said there would be little problem incorporating the home support services' travelling projects into the home's routine since Hyland Crest residents would probably take advantage of the outings. Gambell said residents from around the county, including residents of extended care in Haliburton, would be encouraged to use the bus.

The project is expected to cost little since the bus is debt-free and service clubs will be asked to pay for gasoline for the vehicle. The home is expected to supply a driver whenever possible.

Hospital hosts open house

Hospital Week in Ontario is being observed from May 11 to May 15, and to mark it, the Haliburton Red Cross Hospital Auxiliary is sponsoring open house at the hospital, on Wednesday, May 12, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

One feature of the open house will be to introduce Grade 2 pupils from Victoria School to their local hospital.

The auxiliary hopes to have several groups of these children tour the hospital under the supervision of one of the hospital nurses as well as their teachers. There will also be a short film, as well as refreshments.

The Auxiliary and hospital staff say they will be happy to welcome parents of the children and anyone interested in the hospital.

Snowarama hits $1 million

The annual Snowarama for handicapped children, billed as the million dollar ride, finally broke the million dollar mark after eight years.

The ride, which encourages snowmobilers to obtain pledges to complete the designated route, donates all funds towards helping disabled children.

Lionel Walker, who has been chairman of Minden Rotary's Snowarama since 1976, said the provincial pledges totalled $1,043,251 over the past eight years. Minden and Haliburton Rotary clubs have raised approximately $140,000 of the total through local rides.

CNR tears up rails next week

Canadian National Railways crews have been ordered to begin lifting rails at the Haliburton end of the Haliburton/Lindsay subdivision next Tuesday, even though negotiations on the fate of the line continue.

The provincial transport ministry, Victoria County, Dysart et al and Snowdon Townships have expressed interest in acquiring all or part of the line, but CN has yet to sit down at a formal bargaining session.

Ministry of Transportation and Communications officials asked the railway company to delay removal of the line until the province decides if it wants to purchase the entire 56 mile right-of-way.

Victoria County has indicated it may purchase the right-of-way and rails within its boundaries if the cost is manageable and the company agrees.

Dysart et al and Snowdon will also consider buying their portions of the line as is, but if the cost proves prohibitive, the municipalities hope to purchase the right-of-way within their boundaries.

Haliburton County council has said it is not interested in buying the northern portion of the line.

Negotiations are complicated by the number of political bodies involved, by uncertainty over possible uses of the line if it can be acquired, and by the fact that the Canada Transport Commission ordered the rails torn up in granting CN's abandonment application.

Dysart and Snowdon Townships are under the greatest pressure to reach a decision with CN and the province, because the two year rail removal project is slated to begin at the north end of the line next week. But so far, according to Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey, "we haven't even been able to sit down and talk to them about it."

Work to remove the Victoria County portion of the line is not expected to get underway until next year.

Joint housing meeting set

The inaugural meeting of the joint housing corporation of Anson, Hindon and Minden, Lutterworth and Stanhope townships will be held Thursday evening.

Representatives appointed to the proposed corporation are acting chairman, Ed Pergolas, Stanhope representative, Jim Harrison, Lutterworth representative, Bill Prentice, and Anson, Hindon and Minden representative Larry Cummins.

The corporation will propose the construction of up to 30 housing units for senior citizens and rent-geared-to-income families in Minden village.

Galway/Cavendish council

At the most recent meeting of Galway/Cavendish council, the following matters were considered:

Minutes of the Galway Platoon meeting of the Galway Cavendish Volunteer Fire Department held March 14, 1982, were received.

A summary report submitted by Councillor Nokes covering a meeting of the Buckhorn Library Board held March 29, 1982, was received.

The clerk was authorized to direct a letter to the Chairman of the Victoria County Library Board requesting that a member of Galway Cavendish Council be invited to attend their annual budget and planning meeting.

Severance B-20-82 was deferred until a reply is received from the applicant satisfactorily explaining several concerns raised by council.

A resolution from the Township of Maidstone regarding "Ministry of Transportation and Communications establishing a fee structure for encroachment permits covering municipal drains" was tabled.

A letter from Mr. Ball, District Maintenance Engineer, Ministry of Transportation and Communications, dated March 10, 1982, was tabled until a response has been received from the Honourable James Snow, Minister of Transportation and Communications, to our letter of March 5, 1982 requesting details on the Ministry's 1982/83 plans for reconstructing and upgrading Highway 507.

An invitation from Ministry of Natural Resources to attend the Forest Agreement Diamond Jubilee Celebration, was received.

The balance of one of the 1982 subscriptions to Municipal World was directed to the Road Superintendent.

Cottagers question by-law

President finds new residential zoning inconsistent

The Soyers Lake Property Owners Association will question lakefront lot sizes, the difference between R3, R4 and R5 zones and their location on area lakes in a formal objection to the Anson, Hindon and Minden comprehensive zoning by-law, 82-11.

Lew McCorriston, president of the association, said in a telephone interview Monday that the association will object to the R3 (residential third density) zone which only requires an 82 foot minimum frontage. All other lakefront property requires 40 meter (132 feet) frontage.

"I think in our objection we'll mention enough things that we have an opportunity, then, to discuss them and get some detail. But it will be the lot size, the differences between the R3, 4, 5, and the location of those zones on the lakes" (that the association is mainly concerned with), McCorriston said.

To be fair, McCorriston noted that the township clerk had advised him that the 82 foot frontage was a mistake and that council planned to change it before proceeding with the by-law. "They've passed a by-law, if there are no objections then it would become law, whether we like it or not. We must formally object," McCorriston said.

The association president stated his group was pleased council eliminated the recreational residential zoning that cottagers felt would restrict year-round occupancy of their homes. "I think that was well-dealt with by eliminating it," he said.

However, McCorriston said he couldn't understand the R3, 4, 5 zones which took the place of the recreational residential zone. Especially, he said, he could see little difference between the R4 and R5 zones except that home offices are allowed in R4 zones. He said the requirement of being a certain distance from publicly maintained roads did not hold true for all the zones.

"I don't just understand what the background thinking was. Somebody may have a good idea or reason for some of these things, but at the moment it doesn't seem apparent."

The association hopes it will have an opportunity to discuss the zoning by-law with council before the by-law goes before an Ontario Municipal Board hearing, McCorriston said.

"Hopefully, we'll have a chance, at a meeting with them, to meet and talk. That's really what we want to do, talk about it," McCorriston added.

MOE find sewage problems during Salerno Lake study

Ministry of the Environment inspectors found problems with 116 of 165 sewage disposal systems on Salerno Lake in Snowdon and Glamorgan Townships last year.

The Cottage Pollution Survey carried out last summer revealed 57 seriously sub-standard systems, 52 which were unsatisfactory due to improper disposal of solid waste of wash water, and seven which were direct polluters.

A further 14 systems were unclassified when the survey was completed.

By the end of last year, 59 faulty systems had been corrected and three owners had signed agreements to have work completed during the 1982 construction season.

The remainder of the owners were notified of the problem by letter and environment ministry officials are attempting to obtain commitments from those owners.

Liming experiment to begin

Consultants choosing 4 crown land lakes for program

Experimental liming programs may begin in Muskoka-Haliburton lakes within a year, according to Dr. Tom Brydges of the Ministry of the Environment.

The experimental lake neutralization project that was commissioned last year will include studies in three or four crown land lakes in the Muskoka-Haliburton area, Brydges said. Presently 10 to 12 lakes have been selected by Booth Aquatic Research Group Inc., but the number will be reduced when more details on the lakes are discovered. Brydges said it was important to find lakes with an adequate historical background so the impact of limestone on the lake can be accurately judged. Lakes with low alkalinity will be chosen but none of the key lakes under study by Acid Precipitation in Ontario Study (APOS) staff members will be included in the experiment. Brydges said incorporating the neutralization study in the key lakes would affect the collection of data relating directly to acid rain.

Brydges cautioned that the neutralization program was in the experimental stages since the effect of limestone on the lakes eco-systems is unknown. Noting that lakes contain up to 100 species of organisms, Brydges said it is not possible to undertake liming projects like those underway in Sweden.

"The lake may not do what you want it to do," he said.

According to Brydges, the Swedes claim success with their neutralization program but will admit that only one or two species of fish might live in the new environment. Although the Swedes have a five year program, Brydges said they have now set up an experimental lake program very similar to those in Canada.

When the experimental lakes are finally chosen, Brydges said he was "99 per cent certain" crushed limestone would be dumped into the lakes or left on the ice to melt into the water. He noted dumping the limestone on the ice could neutralize the heavy run-off of snow affecting the lakes in the spring.

Although members of the research group will be conducting field work during the summer months, Brydges said there was no chance the experimental liming would begin within six months.

Anson, Hindon and Minden fire chief William 'Deke' Jackson displays one of the new pagers purchased by the municipality. The ten pagers, divided between the firemen, will hopefully alleviate communication problems that have plagued the department. A charging system that can hold the pagers at night is displayed on the right.

Spring run-off key to research

Spring run-off is a key issue in acid precipitation research but results of this year's testing will not be known for several months, according to Dr. Tom Brydges of the Ministry of the Environment.

This year's run-off was "wider", according to Brydges. Most of the snow dribbled away slowly as cold weather kept returning to the area. Testing is conducted in the Dorset area by Acid Precipitation in Ontario Study (APOS) staff members. Brydges said in a telephone interview Tuesday that samples were taken of the snow, the snow pack and the run-off during the winter. As late as last week researchers were still collecting snow pack data.

"The thing that happened was, spring didn't cooperate. One fellow said what we've really demonstrated, beyond a shadow of a doubt, is there is no such thing as a typical spring," Brydges said.

Although there are no significant conclusions yet, Brydges said most of the data collected seems consistent with previously collected information. He noted that sulphate emissions are still the main source of acid precipitation but that nitrogen emissions may be contributing to the problem as well.

"We're not saying we don't have to worry about nitrogen, we simply don't know," Brydges said.

However, Brydges added that it would not be acceptable to control nitrogen emissions rather than sulphate emissions, if industrial cutbacks were to be arranged.

Council gets grant despite letter

Despite a strong protest from warden Ron Gambell, Haliburton County council will reconsider a decision to cut off funds for the social planning council.

"I don't want to see them get any money after the letter to the newspapers," Gambell said, referring to a letter written by social planning council Susan Clements which urged the county to provide token financial support for the group.

The social planning council's grant was one of several eliminated in the 1982 budget passed last month. Luterworth deputy reeve Glynne Lewis objected to the move when the budget was passed, and at a meeting last Wednesday, he restated his support for the social planning council in the form of a motion asking the budget committee to reconsider its decision.

Lewis admitted the social planning council may have been ill advised to petition Gambell in the form of an open letter published in the Echo and the Minden Times, noting that the letter appeared to have "wounded some people".

But he urged council to "disregard the wounding and think of the principle". "They do a lot of good for the county," Lewis said, adding that the group had no other source of funding than county council's grant, which in 1981 was set at $400.

Budget committee chairman Jim Harrison said the committee "will definitely reconsider it" in light of Lewis' motion.

Some councillors expressed concern that reconsideration of the grant would involve reopening the budget after it had been passed, and could set a precedent for future changes, but Harrison denied the charge.

Some flexibility is built into the budget, and if a grant is given to the social planning council, it is not expected to effect anticipated expenditures for other programs.

Cardiff reeve resigns

In addition, McGillivray said he might resign from municipal politics when the elections are called this fall. If he was to continue, Cardiff reeve said he would make a push for the township to join Hastings County, which borders Cardiff.

"If I was going to stay in municipal affairs, the first move I would make would be to see if Cardiff Township could join up with Hastings. They have no county road system. We should be in Hastings anyway, because that's where we do all our shopping. That's where our municipal engineer comes from and all our children go to Hastings School. So we should be in Hastings County anyway, and that's the move I'd take. It wouldn't be any worse," McGillivray said.

seven miles of county roads pass through Cardiff.

McGillivray also hinted that he might not attend all county council meetings or that he might interchange meetings with his deputy-reeve.

"If I was a deputy-reeve, I wouldn't go to county council under those conditions," he said.

Extendicare honoured for accident prevention record

Extendicare - Haliburton has received the Ontario Hospital Association's Accident Prevention Achievement Award for the year ending March 31, 1981.

The Award is presented by the Association's Hospital Occupational Health and Safety Services (HOHSS), to the health institutions with the lowest frequency of lost time injuries among its staff. This is Extendicare - Haliburton's first award.

"Hospitals and other health care institutions are classified in seven different categories, based on hours worked annually. Awards are presented each year to those institutions in the province with the best safety records," according to Doug Callan, O.H.A.'s assistant executive director, HOHSS.

"Of the 162 hospitals and 95 other health care institutions in Ontario now participating, 27 have earned the award this year. All hospitals and other health care institutions in the province are eligible to receive the award.

Man critically injured

A Scarborough man was critically injured Saturday when the van he was driving left Airport Road in Dysart Township and struck a tree.

Stanley Garnet Holland, 27, was thrown out of his 1973 Chevrolet van by the impact.

He was transported to Haliburton Red Cross Hospital, and was later flown to Sunnybrook Hospital by helicopter ambulance, where his condition was reported as critical.

A passenger in the van, Tehnaz Mistry, 20, of Scarborough, suffered minor injuries.

Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $2,500.

Police say the 1974 Ford van left the roadway and became airborne, sheared off a 12 foot section of telephone pole, and continued a further 20 feet into a ditch where it came to a sudden stop.

had been sitting in a back seat. All were thrown out of the vehicle by the impact.

The injured divided into two groups and headed north and south from the accident site to seek aid. Because the mishap occurred on an isolated section of the highway, it took nearly an hour for the victims to summon help.

Unconfirmed reports indicate that two cars may have passed the scene without stopping, and that the driver of a third was asked to notify police, but failed to do so.

The victims were transported to Haliburton Red Cross Hospital, where Gary Robinson died of multiple internal injuries.

Power politics

When Haliburton County council agreed last Wednesday to include a change in voting structure in any new Haliburton Act, it was taking a step that has been long overdue. Under the existing voting system, 29 votes are divided among 19 members. That means Dysart et al, Anson, Hindon and Minden, and Stanhope Townships have just 12 votes, while the six smaller municipalities in the county share 17 votes. The problem with that distribution of votes - and power - is that the three municipalities with less than 40 percent of the vote contribute approximately 60 percent of the money the county raises from local taxpayers each year. In effect, small municipalities with less than half the county's population wield control over deliberations that concern every local citizen.

Under the new system proposed by Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey and accepted by the majority of council, the number of votes would be cut to 26 on money matters by eliminating the votes of deputy reeves in Cardiff, Monmouth and Snowdon Townships. On all other matters the deputy reeves would continue to take an active role in council affairs and represent the interests of their ratepayers.

The Dysart reeve's scheme is a compromise, and a more than fair one, but some councillors were reluctant to support it. Any change in the status quo is a threat to the power of representatives of the small municipalities, so they spoke out against it.

Their views are based less on abstract conceptions of what is right or fair than on long standing tradition which holds that reeves and deputy reeves are among the community's most prominent and sagacious citizens.

When Haliburton County was young, its needs were relatively uncomplicated and its politicians were relative equals. But the political environment today is vastly different than it was fifty or a hundred years ago, and the political bodies which serve today's citizens must be at least as pragmatic as they are philosophical. That means power must rest in the hands of those who represent the majority. And it means small municipalities must not be allowed to dominate county council sessions with petty concerns and antiquated attitudes.

The change in voting distribution on money matters is a step in the right direction. It does not reflect assessments and population as fairly as it might, but given the constraints of the present county council system, it is perhaps surprising that it is passed at all.

Taking it

Politicians have responsibilities that open them to public scrutiny. And to succeed they must accept criticism without flinching, at least in public.

That is a lesson some county councillors have yet to learn, however. At a meeting last Wednesday, Stanhope reeve Jim Harrison and county warden Ron Gambell reacted angrily to the fact that a decision not to fund the social planning council this year had been criticized by a council member in a letter published in the Echo and the Minden Times. Harrison felt the writer had no right to express disappointment with county council's decision before, as he put it, all the facts were known. Gambell was even more forceful in his condemnation of the letter writing tactic, saying that because of it, council should remain firm on its decision not to give the social planning group a token grant.

Both Gambell and Harrison appeared to be upset with the fact that council was being questioned in public. Yet the letter writer had every right to make a public issue out of a decision that in the long run would effect not only the future of the social planning council, but of the citizens for whom it works in an unsung but important capacity.

Criticism may be not be pleasant, but it goes with public office. Accepting it with grace is a mark not only of maturity, but of character.

Readers back nuclear disarmament

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

We the undersigned were very encouraged to read the letter from Mrs. Louise Watson in the Echo, issue April 14, 1982, opposing the testing of the Cruise Missile, at Cold Lake, Alberta.

It is true that here in Toronto, there are many activities going on protesting the testing of the Cruise Missile in Canada. Around the world as well as Canada there are marches, meetings, petitions against the stock piling of nuclear weapons, and war of any kind.

All ages of people, especially the younger generation, in various religions, political persuasions, and social background, are keenly aware that nobody can win a nuclear war.

We would like to add that more Canadians should press our Governments to declare:

- *Canada a nuclear weapons free zone
- *No testing of the cruise missile in Canada
- *Equal amount of expenditures from our national budget now spent on armaments, and put into building of low cost housing, jobs, health needs, with cheaper OHIP fees, and much more
- *Everyone take some personal action, e.g. sign a petition, write a letter to the press, M.P., M.P.P., and just talk to other people. It all will help a great deal. After all, peace is everybody's business.

Thanking you,
Yours sincerely,
M. Ferguson,
J. Pauk,

To the Editor:

In response to the letter from Keith W. Stata, and to your editorial of Wednesday, April 21, concerning disarmament, I would like to point out a few facts:-

The total world arsenal of nuclear weapons today is equal to 1 1/4 million Hiroshimas. The superpowers can now destroy the world 60 times over. The use of 10 percent of today's weapons would apparently destroy enough of the ozone layer to blind every eye on the planet that wasn't protected by something like a welder's mask.

A war involving nuclear weapons would not even remotely resemble world war two and a comparison between world war two tactics and possible nuclear war outcome is impossible and displays outmoded thinking and an ignorance of the destructive power of the current nuclear arsenal. Anyone gambling that "whilst each side is armed to the teeth with these deadly weapons is indeed preventing nuclear annihilation" is playing russian roulette. You see, if they are wrong then the consequences of such an exchange would certainly reap such mass destruction that life on this planet as we know it, (if there was any planet left) would be destroyed and immeasurable pain and suffering, beyond man's comprehension, would ensue. There would be no winners as there were perhaps, in world war two.

1. The development of a new generation of nuclear weapons such as the MX and the Trident II Missiles, and the soviets SS 20's. These focus on military targets and not civilian targets. Such weapons theoretically can first strike and destroy an enemy's weapons before they can be used against us. Therefore, our weapons must be kept on hairtrigger alert in order to launch on warning. In an international crisis, when tensions are running high, one nation or another would be that much more likely to "go first" if it believed that its own weapons might be destroyed.

2. The U.S. is moving away from the deterrence concept with the capacity for pinpoint accuracy and miniaturization of nuclear weapons. "Limited" nuclear war is becoming more feasible to the superpowers. However, their very contemplation of such an exchange is peace threatening. Nuclear war has never been fought before on any scale, and therefore there are no guarantees that such a war could be limited. It may "run away with itself unto annihilation."

3. As technology becomes even more complex the possibility of accidental war increases. As recently as June 3 and June 8, 1980, a computer circuit chip that malfunctioned nearly brought us to nuclear exchange. The Norad computer caused a full alert signaling a soviet missile attack. With the new "launch on warning" or counterforce policy, the time for response will be diminished and the likelihood of nuclear war increased.

Consider, if in some future time disarmament (Global) does become a reality. It would apparently take, if we imagine a balanced process whereby each superpower dismantles 10 bombs per year, 2,850 years of 114 consecutive generations before stockpiles fell so low that the superpowers could destroy the whole world only once.

Over-kill, as the capacity to annihilate more than once, is called, is not necessary even to the "mutual deterrent thinkers" and, therefore, they, at least should contemplate supporting a "freeze" on stockpiling so that some funds can be re-routed to the starving millions.

Man has lived in fear for too long. Future generations will not appreciate our legacy of arsenal, should there be any future generations. Nothing anyone can do will give any guarantees of peace during our lifetime. I believe that the situation is so desperate that we have to look to the christian way of thinking and start to "lay down our arms". Maybe then, and only then, when we do what we know to be right, would the evil force behind these horrific weapons begin to

The long hockey season for the Haliburton Midgets came to an end on Saturday night at the arena in Haliburton at about 9:30 p.m. when the local team, who were down three games to none on the series only to come back and win the next three to force a seventh and deciding game, just ran out of steam in the final do or die game. The boys from Langton carried on for a 7-2 victory and the Midget All Ontario Championship. Most of the 1100 loyal supporters who packed the arena for this contest stayed to the bitter end to cheer on the local team even though the game was never in doubt during the final 10 minutes. It was certainly more than just an ordinary hockey game as emotions ran high with fans from both teams keeping up a steady roar throughout the game. During the first period in particular there was so much tension in the air that one could have cut it with a knife. Game time wasn't scheduled until 7:30 p.m. but when I arrived at the arena at 6:15 p.m. at least 300 fans were already in their seats. It was an evening when parking space was at a premium with cars parked right from the arena grounds to the main street with every parking lot in the immediate area filled to capacity. Those in attendance witnessed which was possibly the biggest line-up of people ever to be seen trying to get into an event in the village of Haliburton. There were so many hockey fans trying to get into the arena that the line-up extended from the arena box office to the library. Some of the fans driving into Haliburton and noticing the long line-up turned around and went home when they thought that there would be no chance of seeing the game. Haliburton has always been a great hockey town and Saturday night only goes to prove that it still is.

Now what about the hockey game itself? From the viewpoint of a fan I must admit I have seen better games, but possibly I am a little one sided and if Haliburton had come out on a winning note, I might have had a different opinion on the night's proceedings. After a team loses a game such as Haliburton did on Saturday night we all become coaches on Monday morning, coming up with all of the answers as to what went wrong when the chips were down. I think that we have to ask ourselves a few questions. Could it be that we were asking too much from the boys to expect them to win four straight games after losing the first three? Was the 'large' crowd, possibly the biggest that the boys have ever played in front of an advantage or disadvantage? Or did Langton want the game more than we did? Even in defeat the local midgets are still heroes in our eyes. Given very little chance to advance very far in the playoffs the boys fooled everyone, losing only two games during the regular season and going right to the seventh and deciding game in the finals. They came very close to pulling off a miracle. Our thanks to the management and players for a hockey season of exciting entertainment.

Kirk Whipper, who is the director of the Kanawa International Museum of canoes, kayaks and rowing craft, was the guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Haliburton. Mr. Whipper owns the collection and works on it on a total voluntary basis. He pays two full time and one part time employee. It is an International Museum that is very unique. It is also the largest assembly of artifacts in the world. During his most interesting talk he explained the four canoes he had on display at the meeting followed by an interesting slide presentation. His main concern was the lack of funds for the museum and he is looking for support from the County in order to have the collection remain in the area. In other words if the support he needs for the museum is not soon forthcoming it will be moved outside of the County.

Nominations and elections for the Kinsmen Club of Haliburton for 1982-83 were held recently at one of the Kinsmen's regular meetings held at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall in Haliburton. President is Bob Nichol, vice president - Jim Tice, secretary and bulletin editor - Jack Pripp, treasurer - Jim Tice, registrar - John Curry and directors - Randy Aubrey, Norm Greenfield.

Ross Mark of the Shamrock Shell Centre may go down in the record books as one of the best backgammon players in the County. Reports reached our office this week that in a recent match up Ross won 12 games while his partner Dennis Casey only won two.

Also in the news this week Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Burke former residents of Haliburton are Home visiting friends and relatives. Ed tells me that he is still with the Canadian Army and is presently stationed in Poland. It's welcome back from the sunny south to Mr. and Mrs. Albert LaRue, Mr. and Mrs. Rea Stinson, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Boice and all of the others who we forgot to mention. The hockey season is finally over for Ron Stackhouse of the Pittsburgh Penguins and Bernie Nicholls of the Los Angeles Kings. They will both be spending the off season at their homes here in the Highlands. Ken Langdon returned home on the weekend after spending a few days at the Home Hardware Show at St. Jacobs, Ontario. The Rotary Club of Haliburton has approved sending $1,000. to the Five Counties Children's Centre in Peterborough for general funds use. A representative from the Centre will be in Haliburton in early May and the cheque will be presented then. The Haliburton Curling Club Banquet and Dance will be held at Deer Lodge this coming Saturday evening, May 1 at 7:00 p.m.

The Salvation Army Red Shield Appeal is on the month of May. This coming Monday night will be Blitz night in Haliburton. Please give generously when a canvasser calls.

Our thanks go out this week to Margaret Finlay of Tory Hill for submitting this photo showing the Sylvan Manor (now Beaconbrook Hotel) as it looked back in 1948. The above buildings were built in Haliburton in 1948, remodelled and called "Sylvan Manor" in 1951. The business was sold to Mr. and Mrs. George Brooks in 1953 and the name was changed to Beaconbrook. It was built by Mr. George Alexander who died at Victoria, B.C. after a lengthy illness on February 4th, 1982. He was the father of Margaret Finlay. The Beaconbrook Hotel is now owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. George Schmid.

Haliburton deserves T.V. Ontario

Queen's Park Report

by John Eakins, MPP

I hope that very soon we will be able to organize a campaign to focus attention on the desire of the people of Haliburton County to receive T.V. Ontario. There are a number of facts and figures that everyone should be aware of, and I hope to have them available soon. In the meantime, it is important that the new Ministry of Citizenship and Culture be made aware of the citizens' wishes. The best way to let this be known is simply to write to the Honourable Bruce McCaffrey, Minister of Citizenship & Culture, Queen's Park, Toronto, and tell him you wish to have this facility in the Haliburton County area. I have spoken with the Minister and he would like

Report from Parliament

by Bill Scott, MP

The federal Liberal government in Ottawa, aided and abetted by some of their Liberal counterparts in the provinces, continue to spread misinformation and distortions about the imposition of the metric system of measurement in Canada.

For instance, while the government maintains that metric conversion was fully debated in the House of Commons, and was adopted as the law of the land by all parties in the House, the metric system was in fact imposed on our country by Order-in-Council.

Although metric conversion was discussed by Parliament as far back as 1976, in Bill C-23, the main thrust of the debate concerned voluntary adoption of the metric system in some but not all segments of industry and trade.

At no time has Parliament ever debated the question of wholesale replacement of the imperial system of measurement by any system of metric measurement, and at no time was it ever debated on the basis that changeover would be mandatory.

On July 8, 1981, the Canadian public were shocked to learn that the federal Privy Council had passed an Order-in-Council (1981-1705), decreeing that the S.I. system of metric would become mandatory in the retail food sector in Canada effective January 4, 1982.

to have an indication of support. I will have more information soon.

Skin Doctor Pavel Kozak

Liberal House Leader Robert Nixon asked the Minister of Health about a report that the "Crisco Kid" doctor, Pavel Kozak, was going to Chicago from West Germany. This doctor has successfully treated nearly a dozen Canadians for a skin disease, epidermolysis bullosa, which is deemed incurable in Canada. The Minister stated that the government has never invited the doctor to move to Toronto, and set up a clinic. Its only offer to Kozak was to be an occasional consultant to the $900,000 skin disease treatment program being established at the University of Toronto.

Suncor West German Deal

Recently, a West German firm was awarded a $1.3 million contract by Suncor for equipment that an Orillia firm, which has laid off 120 workers, can produce. The Minister of Energy stated the Fahremet Ltd. of Orillia, was one of three companies given one day's notice to bid on the order for centrifugal castings, destroyed by a fire at Suncor's Fort McMurray oil sands project. The third company was American. He said the West German company won the competition because it had the lowest bid and could meet critical delivery requirements. So much for Ontario's influence with Suncor, even though they own 25%.

New Licensing Arrangements

Under legislation introduced by the Minister of Transportation, the province's vehicle registration system would be completely overhauled. Any drivers who ignore parking tickets would not be able to renew their registrations with the $10 million computerized system scheduled to begin on December 1st. People with outstanding tickets will be able to pay them on the spot, however, and then renew. Staggered renewals are to be introduced, eliminating the dreadful February lineups for licence plate validation stickers. The stickers obtained next year will be paid for on a monthly basis and expire on the owner's birthday, after which registration will run from birthday to birthday. Owners will be able to renew by mail, although the agency distribution system will continue; licence plates will follow the owner, not the vehicle; all passenger vehicles - regardless of engine size - will be charged the same registration fee, to be disclosed in the May 13 budget.

Many conventions worth attending

From the Chamber

by Bob Stinson

At the end of next month we will be attending the Ontario Chamber of Commerce Annual Meeting and Convention in Hamilton. Last month we attended, for the first time, the Ontario Association of Convention Bureaux Convention in Brantford, an organization our Chamber just recently became a member of. We also took time to attend the Resorts Ontario Spring and Fall meetings this past year and two meetings of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce Executives and had John Fleming attend the annual conference of the Ontario Industrial Development Council. We are represented on the board and executive of the Central Ontario Travel Association which means meetings in Peterborough just about every month, and there will be an all day major marketing review meeting coming up next week.

Some question whether this is a good use of time and energy when there is so much to be done here at home. Some even suggest that attending conventions is a way of getting away for a good time. Such views tend to be short sighted and narrow in perspective. There may have been a time when a Chamber of Commerce could afford to stay within its boundaries to carry on its tasks, ignoring the outside world and its associations, but that time has long since passed.

To the Editor:

I must take exception to your remarks in the editorial of April 21. You state that global disarmament has no place in municipal politics. Well, I think it has.

A Municipal Council is the seat of government for the particular area under its jurisdiction, and is supposed to carry out measures to meet the needs and wishes of the majority of the people it serves. How does it, then, assess what its electors need and want?

I have lived in Haliburton County for 16 years and can recall one referendum on the question of legalizing liquor being served in restaurants, etc. It seems to me if that was considered important enough to warrant a referendum, then surely the question of putting a stop to nuclear proliferation is far more so, since it affects the lives of men, women and children the world over.

It has been reported that what the world has now in various nuclear weapons is equal to more than a million of the type of bombs dropped on Hiroshima in 1945. The Cruise missile is the latest and most deadly.

The Disarmament Committee of the United Nations meets in June, and our Prime Minister and Foreign Affairs Minister will be attending. They should be made aware of the strong tide of opposition to nuclear weapons which is mounting daily among Canadians from coast to coast.

Finally, Mr. Pizzey, as a voter I resent very much your inference that the people of this County are lacking in intelligence. It is quite evident - with good reason - that people are frightened for the future of our country, and I am sure that if the Municipalities decide to hold referendums they will vote to put a stop to this madness which could annihilate us all.

Sincerely,
Louis Watson

Midgets lose All Ontario final bid Fans pleased to see series stretch players to the limit

Kelly Mitchell had some comforting words for goaltender Dave Storey following Langton's 7-2 win in game seven.

Scott Rae accepted the runner up trophy on behalf of the Haliburton Midgets at the close of the all Ontario final Saturday night.

Ron Stackhouse of the Pittsburgh Penguins was on hand to drop the puck for a ceremonial faceoff before the final game of the all Ontario Midget series in Haliburton Saturday night.

Haliburton's OMHA Midgets gave it all they had, but when the final buzzer sounded at the Dysart arena last Saturday night, Langton had captured the all Ontario 'DD' championship.

The odds were stacked against Haliburton, because a win Saturday would have been the fourth straight, but in the end, they were worn down not by numbers but by the disciplined play of Langton's potent offense.

More than 1100 fans jammed every available corner of the Dysart arena to cheer the local team on, and in the first period, Haliburton quickly took control.

Just 53 seconds after the opening faceoff, Bernie Upton skated down the right wing and slid a pass in front of the Langton goal mouth, where Scott Rae was waiting to bang it in, giving Haliburton the lead.

The roar of the crowd fired up the Haliburton squad, and they kept the pressure on, coming within inches of jamming in a loose puck at 2:35.

Throughout the period Haliburton was exceptionally strong defensively, tying up the Langton forwards with tenacious backchecking and breaking out well from their own zone.

A charging penalty to Mike MacNaull at 6:59 gave Langton the advantage, but Haliburton put on a brilliant defensive display, working the box to perfection and sending Langton's defensemen deep into their own zone to retrieve the puck.

Nearing the 10 minute mark Langton came close to tying the score on a scramble in front of the net, but Dave Storey was sharp and Haliburton's advantage held.

An interference call against Langton gave Haliburton a chance to test its power play, and it nearly paid off on a two on one break as the clock wound down, but Langton's netminder managed to cover strength as the game continued, while Haliburton was hindered by passes that just failed to click.

With 2:15 left in the period, however, Scott Rae took a faceoff in the Langton zone and fed it over to Jeff Bain, who flicked a wrist shot past the Langton goalie on his stick side to tie the game at two.

Haliburton was fired up by the goal and put solid pressure on Langton, but a missed check behind the Haliburton net cost the home team dearly as a Langton player reached around from found the mesh to give the visitors a 4-2 lead.

Dreams of the championship began to fade as the period wound down and Langton's play sharpened.

At 2:45 with Steve Smith off for tripping, Langton took a 5-2 advantage.

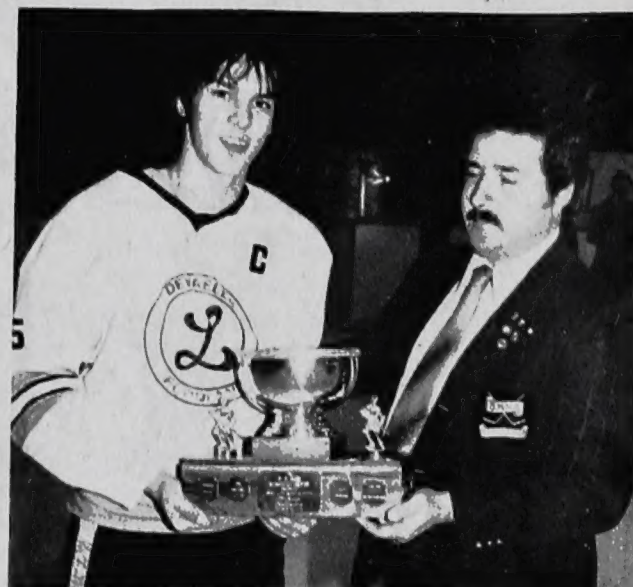

Haliburton refused to go down without a fight however, and they engineered a number of excellent scoring opportunities. But the puck stayed out until the 11:55 mark, when Langton added goal number six.

The final goal of the game came with just 16 seconds skills and stamina to the utmost.

At the close of the game both teams were presented with trophies and medals.

lions, and a party was held for players and parents before the Langton squad and their supporters boarded buses for the long trip home.

Langton captain Rick Vanlouwe accepted the winners' trophy on behalf of his team from an OMHA official.

Langton possessed potent offense

The local Midgets almost had a two goal advantage to take into the second period when Kevin Warburton broke past a Langton defenseman, only to be tripped with a stick that the referee failed to see.

A miscue with just four seconds left nearly cost Haliburton its advantage as Storey blocked a shot and thought he was holding onto the puck, which was in fact loose in the corner.

But the buzzer sounded before any damage could be done.

Momentum began to shift early in the second period, as Langton continued to tax the resources of Haliburton's defense.

With a minute and 14 seconds elapsed, Haliburton had trouble handling the puck in their own end and a pass came out in front of the net, where a Langton player drove it into the open corner to tie the score.

A tripping call brought out Haliburton's power play at 2:58 of the second period, and they came close three times, but the puck stayed out.

At 3:57, Warburton was sent off for tripping, negating the power play and giving Langton a brief advantage but they failed to capitalize on it.

Action was end to end at the mid point of the period as both teams struggled to get the go ahead goal.

With 6:24 left in the period Langton came in on a clear breakaway, and what looked like a sure goal was stopped by the goal post. But six seconds later they stormed back to take the lead.

Langton appeared to gain the side and jammed in what proved to be the game winning goal with one minute left in the second frame.

Less than a minute into the third period Langton won a faceoff in the Haliburton zone and a quick slapshot left on the clock, giving Langton a 7-2 win.

Haliburton was clearly disappointed by the loss, but local fans found nothing to complain about in a series that had gone the limit and stretched every player's

More than 1100 fans jammed into the Dysart arena Saturday to see the all Ontario Midget 'DD' championship decided in game seven. The action was thrilling as Haliburton jumped into an early lead and both teams went end to end through three periods.

Thank You

We would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere Thanks to the parents, fans, minor hockey executive and others for the support given to our Midget Hockey Club this year.

A special Thanks to the boys for their hard work and dedication in making this year a success. It has been a rewarding experience for both of us.

OCAP CAN HELP

Are you between the ages of 16 and 24?

Have you been out of school for at least 3 months?

Are you actively looking for your first full-time, career-related job?

If the answer is yes to each of these questions, the Ontario government has just the program for you....

The Ontario Career Action Program

You may be finding it extremely difficult to get a job in your chosen line of work because you lack experience; at the same time, the only way to obtain this experience is by getting a job! The Government of Ontario has designed the Ontario Career Action Program (OCAP) to help you over this frustrating hurdle.

EARN WHILE YOU LEARN

The OCAP training period lasts up to 16 weeks, depending on the complexity of training. During this time, you receive a training allowance of $100 a week.

GET PRACTICAL, ON-THE-JOB TRAINING

OCAP gives you practical, on-the-job training. You learn in a real work environment, one of the best ways to improve your job skills, work habits, and productivity. This work experience should increase your chances of obtaining that first all-important regular job. It should also help you to compete for jobs with more self-confidence. OCAP will not find you a permanent job, but it will help you to find one for yourself.

FIND THAT PERMANENT JOB

Job-search counselling and career guidance are also part of the OCAP experience. You will participate in workshops on how to search for employment effectively, how to write a good resume, and how to present yourself at a job interview. You will also be encouraged to apply for regular jobs and given help in arranging job interviews during your training.

HOW TO APPLY

Application forms for participation in the Ontario Career Action Program and further information are available from the OCAP office at your local community college or Canada Employment Centre.

REPRESENTATIVES FROM S.S.F.C.

WILL BE AT OUR HALIBURTON CAMPUS

WEDNESDAY MAY 12, 1982 AND THURSDAY, MAY 13, 1982
FROM 9:00 - 12:00

TO RECEIVE APPLICATIONS AND PROVIDE
FURTHER INFORMATION ON OCAP.

PLEASE DROP IN OR GIVE US A CALL AT 705-457-1680

EMPLOYERS OCAP can help

If you are an employer who wants to hire a young, eager person but can't meet the initial training costs ... the Ontario government has an employment program just for you ...

WHAT IS OCAP?

The Ontario Career Action Program is designed to help young people learn practical, marketable skills on the job.

Many young people face a major problem. Lack of previous work experience prevents them from finding regular jobs related to their career goals and education, yet the only way they can get that experience is by being employed! OCAP was created to help overcome this dilemma by bringing together unemployed youths and employers, with the help of your local community college.

EARN WHILE YOU LEARN

OCAP provides on-the-job training for a period of up to 16 weeks. Trainees will receive an allowance of $100 per week plus 4 per cent vacation pay from the Ontario Government, Income Tax, Canada Pension Plan and Unemployment Insurance premiums will be deducted. Trainees are responsible for their own health coverage but most trainees will qualify for premium assistance. Enquire at your local OHIP office.

WHO QUALIFIES?

Trainers:

All Ontario businesses, industries, provincial government ministries, colleges, universities, crown corporations, municipal and federal governments are eligible to participate.

You must ensure:

* that the training will be for a period of up to 16 weeks, depending on the complexity of the job duties

* that there are good prospects for employment of the trainee with you after OCAP

* OR that the skills acquired in training are marketable in the community, so that job prospects for the trainee are good with other businesses

* that no regular full-time or part-time employees are displaced in any way by the introduction of an OCAP trainee

REPRESENTATIVES FROM SIR SANDFORD FLEMING COLLEGE

WILL BE AVAILABLE:

WEDNESDAY, MAY 12 1:00 P.M. - 4:00 P.M.

THURSDAY, MAY 13 1:00 P.M. - 4:00 P.M.

PLEASE DROP IN TO OUR HALIBURTON CAMPUS TO DISCUSS YOUR TRAINING NEEDS OR GIVE US A CALL AT 705-457-1680.

Babies experience dreams

Port Hope mother queries child's nighttime motions

by CATHERINE CLARK
Infant Development
Consultant

Mrs. L.O. of Port Hope asks why her five month old son cries out, twitches and moves in his sleep. The baby doesn't awaken but this mother wonders whether small babies can have nightmares.

You needn't worry that your child needs to be awakened and comforted when he twitches or makes sounds as he sleeps. Some babies are naturally restless sleepers. After his second birthday, when his imagination is developing, he may be capable of having a nightmare and he will let you know. Until then, his movement while he sleeps is probably due to simple brain activity (primitive dreams) rather than vivid nightmares.

Obviously, it is very difficult to determine for sure whether a baby dreams, but research methods have been devised to test the frequency of an adult's dreaming state.

Rapid eye movement indicates dreaming

Adults have two basic kinds of sleep: the eyes move rapidly while sleeping (Rapid Eye Movement or REM sleep) and non-REM sleep during which the eyes stay still. When awakened during REM sleep, adults report that they have, indeed, been dreaming. Along with rapid eye movement, adults may also twitch or cry out while they are in REM sleep. Normally about a quarter of an adult's sleeping time is spent dreaming, whether you remember the dreams or not.

Babies do dream

Although a baby can't tell us he was dreaming, we do know that newborn infants spend as much as 60 per cent of their sleeping time in REM. It seems safe to say that newborns probably spend more than half their sleep time dreaming. Premature babies spend even more time sleeping; about 85 per cent of their sleep in REM.

Babies' dreams differ from adults'

Research indicates that dreaming has a different function for infants than it does for adults. We have more REM, or dreaming, sleep as infants from birth to three months old than at any other time in our lives.

It seems that babies' dreams may serve as self-stimulation for the brain. Stimulation from dreaming, alternating with rest from stimulation, may be required for brain organization. Premature infants may need more time to organize brain functions and that's why they dream more than full term infants.

Dreams yes, nightmares no
We will never know, for sure, whether babies see images during REM sleep, however it seems very unlikely that any child under one year would be capable of imagining people, stories or fears in their sleep as adults dream.

During REM sleep a

Haliburton loved L'il Abner

Effort culminates in 3 packed performances

Sharon Williams, Jamie Wooden star in musical production

The HHSS production of L'il Abner found appreciative audiences when it went to the stage last week after months of rehearsals. On the right, Sharon Williams as Daisy Mae and Jamie Wooden as L'il Abner are seen in a duet early in the show. Above, Beth Cooper as Mammy Yokum speaks her mind to a skeptical Craig Bugden as Pappy Yokum, while other Dogpatchers listen in. Scores of students were involved in the production, which began to take shape last fall. It is the first time in several years that a musical has been staged at HHSS. Several hundred people turned out to watch the production, which ran Thursday, Friday and Saturday night.

This has been a busy week here at Hyland Crest. To tell you all about it I'll do my very best. We have Doris back again with nice rosy cheeks. She has been on holidays for the past week.

There was a lovely service in the chapel Sunday night. If I didn't tell you all about it it wouldn't seem just right. Rev. Burgess read the lesson and also led in prayer, then the Pettit family took over from there. They played and sang some sacred songs and entertained us so - when they came onto the end we were loath to let them go.

Then Monday morning when we do all kinds of tricks. Rolling the ball into the box was won by Robert Krick. Then to finish off the day just right, we watched two interesting movies Monday night.

Tuesday morning Rev. Miller held a nice communion service in the chapel here. Then Tuesday night the Watson-Smith trio came to entertain us all. It was allemande left in the corners and promenade the hall. Wednesday morning Doris took some kids from here to Haliburton to see the Children's Show. They said it was really funny - they were glad that they did go.

Wednesday afternoon some were a little lean - some a little fat. Wednesday night was Games Night. You mustn't be conceited - when you think you're good you'll probably get defeated.

Walter Harper came to see us Tuesday afternoon. We didn't expect to see him back from the South so soon.

My wife and I like it here, everyone is so kind, if you don't care to exercise, you just sit on your behind.

The ladies from the Pentecostal Church in Allsaw served a nice lunch and tea party Thursday afternoon.

Our manager has been away a lot from here this week, I trust it was on business and not pleasure he did seek. Friday afternoon "Sing song time" in the gym. Mrs. Coburn sang "Bless this House" and we sang some good old hymns. Fred Ballard played the music which greatly pleased my spouse. Some ladies from Hyland Crest attended a birthday party for Dora Dawson. We wish her all the best.

When life seems just a dreary grind And things seem fated to annoy, Say something nice to someone else, And watch the world light up with joy.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

When I was in Toronto last week, I was listening to comments about the article by Tom Harpur, and the Falkland Islands crisis. Last week I wish I had taken with me, but now will share with you.

Oh don't let us be fooled, my friend, A prey to Yankee guile: The Cruise is but the inch, my friend, Tomorrow its the mile; The testing of the missile, friend, In intent is to fledge, The implementing of their plan, The thin edge of the wedge. With Canada an arsenal, Their first line of defence, They'll sing "God save America" At Canada's expense. If our neighbours to the South Decide to start the fuss, The foe will strike the nearest base, Believe me, folks, that's us. No more will we be plagued, my friend, With fears of acid rain. Our rivers will be running blood, Our land a lurid stain.

Thank you Bill Watson for sending me this poem; it expresses so clearly what can happen if we do not take a firm stand.

Birthdays at Hyland Crest Home for the month of May are: Mildred Wood, 10th; Ida Schell, 10th; Victor Spencely, 20th; Mary Grozelle, 23rd; Della Curry, 28th.

You know a smile and a cheery hello linger longer in the minds of people. Thus the memory of George Nesbitt will linger long with us, for in all the time I knew him, he never failed to smile and say hello when we met.

Don't forget the movies to be shown in the Common Room this Friday, April 30. The adult movies start at 2 p.m. The children's cartoons will not start until 8 p.m.

When in Toronto attending my nephew's wedding, I had a nice chat with Rev. and Mrs. Pace, who asked if I would extend their best wishes to Mrs. Turrell, for they enjoyed their visits with you, while in Florida so very much.

You know the politicians have come a long way since George Washington. He couldn't tell a lie -- and now almost all of them can.

The Minden Women's Institute held their annual meeting at the Common Room on the afternoon of April 21, with Mrs. Clare Brown in the chair. The usual reports as well as the annual reports were given. The roll call of payment of dues showed 21 members and one guest present.

Plans are underway for the bus trip on June 9, to Markham Plaza and museum; then to Cullen Gardens.

Mrs. A.S. Kernohan took the chair and conducted the election of officers for 1982-83.

The slate of officers is as follows: past president - Mrs. Clare Brown; president - Mrs. Lyman Cox; first vice pres. - Mrs. Wm. Moore; second vice pres. - Mrs. C. Lacey; secretary - Mrs. M.

Sears; treasurer - Mrs. A.S. Kernohan; district director - Mrs. C. Brown; alternate - Mrs. M. Bunker; branch directors - Mrs. J. Grant; Mrs. R. Hughes, Mrs. A. Coulter, Mrs. D. Berry. Convenors are: Mrs. H. Stevens, May Spence, Mrs. Cal Wilson, Mrs. D. Berry, Mrs. J. Hulbig, Mrs. M. Sears, Mrs. M.J. O'Neill.

Plans were made to send delegates to Victoria East District Annual at Burnt River on May 11. Reports of the P.R.O. and district executive meeting were given. The card convener reported sending 20 cards since the March meeting.

A card was signed for Desmond Thompson, the adopted child of the W.I. Collections were taken, membership cards were given out and other business dealt with. When the meeting closed a social time was enjoyed by all over the tea cups.

Adios and take care now.

Stanhope Notes

by A.F. Stevenson

He who seeks and is elected to public office becomes public property...

We do not recall the name of the author of the above quotation but we use it because it is, in our opinion, applicable to the subject of this column.

Reeve Jim Harrison of Stanhope Township has let it be known that he is retiring from municipal politics and will not be seeking election to any office in the upcoming 1982 municipal elections. His reasons for retiring are good and sound in-as-much as he wishes to be free to spend more time with his family, and to give more time to new opportunities offered by his present employer.

Jim Harrison came into municipal politics as a young man, and after 13½ years of service he will retire while still a young man.

Entering as Councilman in 1969 he served for four and a half years then became deputy reeve, serving in that capacity until 1978 at which time he was elected to the office of Reeve. On the completion of the present term, he will have served for four years as township Reeve and during that time he was appointed Warden of Haliburton County in 1979.

While serving on township council he has been a conscientious member of several committees including roads, library, recreation, and the township committee to administer the Ontario Home Renewal Plan. His presence as Council representative on the library committee provided strong support for those township residents who were working to bring a library service to Stanhope Township.

The home renewal plan has served the township well and was first chaired by the late John Tomlinson who pressed to have the plan available in Stanhope. When Mr. Tomlinson died, Jim Harrison was appointed chairman and he has been inspired to make the committee serve the township residents as John Tomlinson had visualized it should.

Reeve Harrison was also a strong supporter of the formation of a fire department in the township at the time when there were some skeptics on council. He also supported recreational committee activities, leading to facilities now existing. During his years on County council Harrison served on a number of county committees including Hyland Crest Senior Citizen Home and in this position took an active interest in the welfare of residents of the facility.

The number of meetings, municipal, county, committee, and other public concerns, which he was required to attend totalled several hundred yet in all this number he missed only two meetings.

As we said, the opening quotation applies to Jim Harrison for he has given himself fully to serving his community and to meeting the demands of the various positions he has held. There is no doubt in our mind the Reeve Jim Harrison retires with the respect, best wishes, and the appreciation of most people in Stanhope as well as many people throughout Haliburton County.

Last week another exchange of 200 books took place at the Glamorgan library. One of the books, "Death and Eternal Life", by John Hick, traces the origins of man's belief in an after-life and the forms this belief has taken in the great religions of the East and West. Special attention is given to the Resurrection of Jesus.

The "Mill", by Wm. Fox, has stunning photography, drawings and paintings in colour, and black and white. The "Mill" brings back the life style and history of North America from earliest settlement to the late 1800's. The mill, with their many turns and various functions, helped to build the modern world.

In the story of Lazarus at the Rich Man's table, she noted that, amid the world's wealth, there are the problems of suffering in the Third World. She used eight par-

Thursday, April 15, the Honourable Pauline McGibbon, formerly Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, was guest speaker at the Lindsay Canadian Club's regular dinner meeting at the Lindsay Golf Course. She spoke on the reminiscences of a Lieutenant Governor. The next morning, Laura Gaunt, president of the Lindsay Canadian Club, drove Dr. McGibbon to Ottawa. One of Dr. McGibbon's posts as chairman of the Arts Centre Board and she was to greet the Queen and share the Royal Box at the Arts Centre Gala.

Bill Menard, John Pyke and W.D. Moss, along with Jason were "under the weather" for various reasons last week. I hope all of you are fine now. I was pleased to hear little Carrie Crego is coming along well following her heart surgery Wednesday, April 14, in Toronto.

A happy though belated thirteenth anniversary to Kathleen and Terry Hartin of Kinmount on Monday, April 19.

Ursula and Anthony Diamond of Toronto spent the week-end at their Kinmount residence.

Joan Howe, Colleen Crego and Crystal Ann Sedgwick, all of Lindsay, were Friday, April 16 guests of Vi and Albert Crego.

There was a good turnout of 20 teams at Zone F-4 euchre at the Royal Canadian Legion #441, Kinmount, Saturday, April 18. Standings were: first place - Sunderland; second place - Bobcaygeon #1 team, Omemece; third; Coboconk, fourth;

Bobcaygeon #2 team, fifth; and the Cannington team, sixth. With four lone hands prize going to Don Patterson of Omemece.

Willowby Allen of Kinmount was to undergo open heart surgery in Toronto, Tuesday, April 20. Let's pray Willowby will be fine and out of hospital in the very near future.

Congratulations to Anna Laberge of Fenelon Falls who won $10,000 in last week's Wintario draw. Anna didn't know she was a winner until Friday and says she won't be wasting any of it.

Happy birthday to Mary Snodden Saturday, April 17. Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Whitney, Margaret Kylie, Ruby Schell and Bertha Stata accompanied Father Brooks on Sunday afternoon, April 18, to the service at St. Paul's Anglican Church in Fenelon Falls, followed by time of Fellowship.

Mrs. Phyllis Elizabeth McGrath, in her eighty-seventh year, was put to rest at Kinmount Cemetery Monday, April 19. The funeral service was held in the Chapel of Monk's Funeral Home, Minden and some of her many friends and her family, including sons Ted of Edmonton, Alberta, and Reg of Hagarsville, attended St. James Anglican Hall, following for lunch. Mrs. McGrath was loved by all who knew her and she will be sorely missed. Besides her sons, she leaves two grandsons, Jim and Jack and two great grandchildren.

To people in Norland who have been asking for a yogurt cake recipe, I'm sorry I haven't come up with one yet but in the meantime how about giving this a try? Sesame Snails: Adding yogurt to the dough is a different idea for little rolled biscuits. 2 tbsp. butter or margarine, 1/4 cup sesame seeds, 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 3 tsp. baking powder, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1 1/2 cups whole wheat flour, 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 1 1/2 cups plain yogurt, 1 egg, beaten lightly. Heat the 2 tbsp. butter or margarine in a small skillet over medium heat. Add sesame seeds, stir until they're lightly browned, then cool. Heat oven to 425 degrees F. Lightly grease a cookie sheet. Sift next 3 ingredients into a medium bowl. Stir in whole wheat flour with a fork. Add the 1/2 cup butter or margarine and cut in finely with a pastry blender. Use fork to stir in yogurt. Turn dough out on a floured board and knead gently about 5 times. Roll into a rectangle 15 x 12". Brush with half of beaten egg, then spread with sesame seeds. Roll dough up from wide side like a jelly roll, pinching with fingers to seal. Cut into 16 slices with a floured knife. Put slices on cookie sheet and brush with remaining egg. Bake until lightly browned, 15 to 18 minutes. Makes 16.

Results of the St. James euchre held Tuesday, April 20, ladies' high: Ruby Schell, ladies' low: Ruby Holbrook, men's high: Hugh Phillips, men's low: Charlie Molyneux and most lone hands: Ambrose Watson.

Last week, Clara Watson, Joyce Hills and Helen Graham were all down with miseries of one sort or another.

Sis Gillis was down with the flu last Thursday and Clara Watson still wasn't feeling too well.

Our Kinmount A.C.W. held a combined meeting with the A.C.W. of Ironton and Burnt River on Wednesday evening, April 2 and it was very enjoyable. We started planning on our next big rummage sale and more about that later, so start saving your "throw aways" from spring cleaning and donate it instead, to any of the A.C.W. ladies please. from page 9 remembered at this time. Also, our daughter-in-law lost her grandma last week-end. Her grandma was 85 years old and had not been well for some time. The "Grandma" was Mrs. Nona Dawson (or Mrs. S.A. Dawson) and for many, many years was a cottager on Shadow Lake. Other relatives still holiday there. Their cottage is just beyond the Howard Magee farm in the "Rumvee" settlement, about half a mile or so. The Dawson name is displayed there along with about 15 more.

Our street has been noisy this past week as big dump trucks rattle up into the old lime kiln early each morning - at 5 a.m. on Tuesday morning. We are up before that time so the racket does not matter but for those who sleep later - well, they have had a very effective alarm clock this past week. Six or seven trucks in a convoy can be attention getters!

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lee and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Hughes of Cannington have been holidaying in Florida and the fellows, as well as other men from Ontario are playing in an old tinners hockey game.

Dorset News

by Phyllis Briscoe

"When a person assumes a public trust, he should consider himself as public property."

Monday the 19th we had telephone calls and verbal reports that the wild geese had been seen in flocks headed for the north. The first reported in this area, we believe and I'm sure those geese know what they are doing. Anyway, I think we have a sure sign that spring is here or why would they leave the sunny south? We enjoyed the beautiful sunshine last week, but the winds were very high, which played havoc with the ice. It hasn't disappeared altogether, but with a few more windy days it won't be long.

Fifteen girl guides from Dorset and Dwight had an interesting bus trip recently when they went to Kitchen-ers Priscilla Lewis and Ann Ohlmann, and one of the mothers, Mrs. Audrey Brown, from Dwight. The girls were billeted while in Kitchener, in the basement of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, where the hospitality was remarkable. The members served fruit juice and cookies to the girls with tea and coffee for the adults. On the afternoon of their arrival the girls had the grand tour of T.V. station CKCO which thrilled them and the next morning they had a trip to the Farmers Markets in Kitchener and Waterloo. At the latter they had the opportunity to see groups of Mennonites with their horses and buggies and different attire which was a new experience for the girls. There were a group of ten seniors from the Baysville club and they accompanied the girls on their trip to the markets and they all enjoyed each others company, the seniors remarking what a fine group of girls they were and how well behaved. It's nice when the youngsters and seniors are given the opportunity to mix in this manner. Priscilla and the girls would like to thank Mrs. Ohlmann and Mrs. Brown for all the time and effort they put into the trip, without which it could not have been done.

Returning from a trip to Florida and looking tanned and rested is Mrs. Eldred MacKay, her son Don, Don's wife Peggy and Peggy's mother, Mrs. Etta Cairns of Huntsville. The group spent sometime in Reddington Beach and Haines City and returned home on the 17th in time to help celebrate Andy MacKay's birthday on the 18th. Andy, to whom we send best wishes, is Don and Peggy's son.

We are planning a rummage sale in the near future, so let's have your usable articles that you are discarding. Will let you know when a firm date is set.

Congratulations to another birthday celebrant who is well known in the community, Ernie Clayton, who is a resident of the Pines in Bracebridge, was 85 years old on Wednesday, April 21 and to mark the occasion, his niece, Mrs. Phyllis Matthews put on a party for him. Present were her husband Jack, daughter Margy Boyes, her husband Vern and daughter Amanda; Ernie's nephew Jack Clayton, his wife Irene and son John. It was a gala event complete with cake and candles.

I hope everyone remembered to turn their clocks ahead on the week-end. It will be nice, with daylight coming so early, to be getting up an hour later, if that is what we will be doing. I'm always slightly confused until a few weeks go by on the new time and one gets used to it.

H.H. To make sure that clothes receive a thorough rinsing, add a cupful of white vinegar to the rinse cycle. This helps to dissolve soaps and detergents and you will have soft, sweet smelling clothes. It is also good to add a little vinegar to rinse water when hand washing.

Rotary club contributions praised

by SUSAN CLEMENTS

Today's column will provide an overview of the work of the Haliburton Rotary Club, with emphasis on the club's considerable contributions in the area of social services.

The club has been in existence for 38 years, and in 1944, when it received its charter, the president was Ron Curry. From its inception, Rotary members have aspired to high ethical standards in their personal and business lives. A respect for friendliness and understanding among members is observed. The club's main goals are: provision of service to the handicapped, promotion of Haliburton County, and the upgrading of local recreational facilities.

To accomplish its goals, the Rotary Club has a membership of approximately 50. The operation is directed by the president, who is David Bishop, a vice president, four elected directors, a past president, and an appointed secretary and treasurer. The four directors are each responsible for an area of service.

The first area is that of club service, and involves aspects such as programme, public relations, attendance, sick and visitation, and Rotary information. Presently, the director charged with this responsibility is Brian Black. Community service is an area directed by Paul Wilson, and includes support of Five Counties Children's Centre, which is based in Peterborough. The club contributed generously to the capital costs of establishing the centre, and the transportation costs of local children to the centre. In addition, the club assists in covering the cost of a physiotherapist from Five Counties, who visits Haliburton County once a week. During the Easter Seal Society's campaign week, Rotary members prepare the mailings, collect the remittances, give a portion of the remittance to the society, and retain a portion in a trust fund to assist local handicapped children. The members also send local scholarships to Haliburton Highlands Secondary School graduates, and contributes to the loan fund established for students wishing to continue their education.

The third area is vocational service, which is directed by Jim Scheffee. This area includes recruitment of members, and participation in the planning and implementation of Career Week.

Finally, there is an area entitled international service, under the direction of Dale Robinson. Members are informed of projects undertaken by Rotary International and provide an in-coming and out-going student exchange each year.

In addition to the four areas of service, there are club activities, which include the summer and winter carnivals, Snowarama, provision of Christmas parcels, Santa Claus party for children, and a curling bonspiel. The former two activities are the principal means of fund raising. Doug Devolin is responsible for the managing of the club activities.

Each member is encouraged to identify a local need and present his proposal to the membership. A formal report is submitted by the appropriate committee to the board for review. The final decision on pursuit of a project is made by the membership.

Other activities undertaken by the club include the creation of Rotary Beach, financial assistance for the building of the new park, provision of a resuscitator

June Devolin guided bible study Tuesday morning continuing with the Easter story of the resurrection as recorded in the gospel of John. On that morning there were many believers and also many skeptics. The believers spared no time or effort to spread the good news. Christianity today is a very dominant force because of those who believed despite the powerful political forces surrounding the Easter event.

Bingo in the afternoon was called by Ray Smith and refereed by Betty Wise and Ivy Shaw. There were more prizes to be had this time than in many other games we have yet played, making it the most profitable prize wise.

The many seedlings we have at present are the best ever.

Happy Gang News

Friday morning the Rev. John James, pastor of the Haliburton United Church conducted a devotional period for the Happy Gang, Jan Shipley pianist. The theme stressed the faith we must have in Jesus and the Christian doctrine. Each individual born has a destiny laid down before their conception and are guided and protected toward that goal by divine plan. The cookies we had in the after service together were superb when combined with the nice cup of tea brewed by Ivy Shaw, our activities director.

Two movies were shown in the afternoon, Ray Smith projectionist. 1. 'Turn of the Century', depicting the many notables, the sad immaturity of the early parliamentarians, the epochal highlights, Boer war, World War 1, the horse era, and the outdoor privies, etc. 2. 'And God Created The Great Whale' that they said populated this planet before man. The book of Genesis covers 1000 years a millennia or so we are led to believe, but the scientific community would agree more readily if that postulated as a million millennia, or even why be specific and simply say the infinite past or the eternity of the past in the same way that theists regard heaven as eternal. At any rate this movie claimed that great whales make great pets.

Bonnie Walker of Weston spent the past week-end visiting relatives in Norland and Kinmount.

Thank you to Mr. Garnet Graham for the very nice note received via the mail. Garnet told me that his family moved to Kinmount some 80 years ago and that his father, James had managed the Stove factory one mile north of Kinmount for about 12 years before leaving for Cobocok to manage the Gull River Lumber Co., (now the Plywood). Garnet's mother, Hannah, had 12 children and Ted, who died earlier this month, was born in Kinmount in 1906 and named after the Doctor, A.E. White. Argyle E. White was the doctor of Kinmount for many years. I'm sure many of our senior folks will enjoy remembering back to the "good old days".

baby's dreams are probably limited to the stage his memory has reached. What do babies dream about? Well, who knows. Perhaps he's remembering the good feeling of being carried in Daddy's arms or his latest experiences with the pots and pans. It is very unlikely that a baby could have a nightmare or bad dream until his memory and imagination have developed after two years.

Dysart et al regular council minutes

Council concurred in principle with the resolution of the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden regarding the retaining of local assessors within Haliburton County, council noted it is essential that assessment records reflect the most up to date information possible in order that all property owners receive equal treatment under the system. This will also ensure that all Municipalities are treated equally in cost sharing arrangements, council noted.

The Building Inspector was authorized to issue a Building Permit to Extendicare Limited (The Happy Gang) for the construction of a workshop on municipal lands adjacent to Extendicare.

Lloyd Barry will be retained to caretake the West Guilford Dump for the 1982 season at $130 per week plus a vehicle allowance of $50 per week.

requests the Provincial Government to allot at least one-half of the revenue from annual snowmobile registration fees to the various snowmobile clubs for trail

Carnarvon Investments Limited was advised that the Municipality is unable to proceed with the application to amend the comprehensive zoning by-law as the requested zoning will not conform to the Official Plan of the Dysart Planning Area.

The Tender of Cordell Interiors for the supply and installation of carpet in the Drag River Municipal Building in the amount of $1,050 including Provincial Sales Tax was accepted. Installation is to take place about April 20, 1982.

The Tender of Emmerson Lumber was accepted for approximately 15 gallons of paint at $14 per gallon and approximately eight gallons of primer at $10.95.

The clerk was instructed to advise David Steinberg that the Municipality does not wish to renew its lease with him and the premises will be vacated by May 30, 1982.

The Road Superintendent was authorized to get quo-construction and maintenance.

Council approved general accounts totalling $11,224.47; Road Voucher of $19,071.23 and March Wel-tations on a washer to clean municipal equipment.

Curry Motors Limited was advised that a user fee will be deducted on Block "H", Lot 6, Dysart Township.

The Reeve and Clerk were authorized to sign the grant of easement between the Municipality and Bellamy across Part Lot 16, Concession 5, Guilford, particularly being Block "B", however the exact location must be provided and approved by the Road Superintendent before construction can begin.

The application to amend the comprehensive zoning by-law by Highland Wood Partners Limited was approved.

The application for fare totalling $3,990.89.

By-laws 82-9 to authorize the sale of land and 82-10 to stop up, close and convey a part of an original allowance for road were passed.

The applications of George Hutchings and Leonard Pearcell for seasonal employment at Haliburton dump were accepted.

By-law no. 82-16, a by-law to provide for interest to be added to Tax Arrears; by-law no. 82-17, a by-law to designate a portion of the Township of Dysart Neighbourhood Improvement Program area as a Redevelopment Area within the Municipality of Dysart et al; and by-law no. 82-18, a by-law to rezone a part of the Lands of Stoughton and Hunter on Dudman Lake, were passed.

27. THANK YOU

I would like to thank Dr. Good, Dr. Heyes, and the nurses at Haliburton Red Cross Hospital and the ambulance drivers.

My sincere appreciation and thanks to neighbours, friends and relatives for their prayers, get-well cards, flowers, phone calls and visits.

Your concern and kindness will always be remembered.

Thank you and may God bless you all. - Rosa Luna 27-P-28

Many thanks to all the lovely nurses, doctors, relatives, friends, neighbours and wonderful ladies of Lindsay for the kindness shown to me during my operation and stay at Lindsay Hospital; and especially to my brother, Russell Lindsay and Lil, from Ashburn, who visited with me everyday during my stay and brought me home.

Mary Currah, Gelert 27-P-28

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to all who so kindly remembered me with flowers, gifts, cards, phone calls and visits while I was in the hospital and at home. Also for the many kind deeds and help over the past month.

Sinc Nesbitt 27-B-28

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to my family, friends and local prayer groups for their love and support during my recent illness. Because of the many prayers God has been healing me and giving me daily strength. I want to say thank you, also, to the many people who brought food for Giles, and Peter, and those who dropped in at our house to help or encourage us. Your many kindnesses will always be remembered.

Gladys Connelly 27-B-28

I would like to thank all my neighbours, other friends and relations, for the nice get well cards, flowers, plants and phone calls, also the many goodies sent in to help speed my recovery from my operation at Peterborough Civic Hospital. A special thanks to Dr. Belch and the lovely nurses there.

Many offers of transportation were received also, which we appreciated very much.

The services of Dr. Heyes and Dr. Good were excellent, when needed most.

Thank you one and all. - Rae Moore 27-P-28

27. THANK YOU

A big thank you to all my friends who sent me fruit, flowers and cards during my stay in Civic Hospital.

Gladys Reid 27-P-28

I wish to thank all the kind friends who sent me cards and good wishes and prayers during my stay in hospital. They were needed and most appreciated at that time.

Mary Oliver 27-P-28

Audrey McIntyre and family would sincerely like to thank our neighbours, family and friends for food, donations, flowers and cards. It was greatly appreciated in our deep loss of a dear husband, father and grandfather. A special thanks to Dr. Harry Good, Gordon Monk, funeral director and staff, Glenna Beckam, organist, and the U.C.W. who prepared the lunch, and to each and all we extend our heartfelt gratitude. 27-B-28

Guilford Pulse Beat

by Bill Wood

Hello again, folks! Last Thursday I attended the monthly meeting at the West Guilford Recreation Centre. Following are some of the details of that meeting.

The West Guilford ladies softball team are in great need of new uniforms and other equipment. To try and raise money for this purpose, the team has decided to hold a fabulous bake sale during the May 24 week-end. Let's support the ladies in their venture so we can have the sharpest team in the area. Sponsors are also needed for the team. For details on sponsoring or the bake sale please call Gail Teasdale at 754-2555.

Saturday, April 24, a roast beef supper was enjoyed by all the ladies in the area's ladies' bowling league. The banquet was followed by a fine dance, which the ladies and escorts all enjoyed.

Attention! Mothers of pre-school children who will be 3 and 4 years old this coming fall are invited to bring their pre-schoolers to the West Guilford play school at the centre. The mothers will be able to observe the fine job the workers are doing with the young ones. Please call Arlene Edwards (754-2605) for details.

Results of the bingo games held Monday, April 19 are as follows: Pickle Jar (7 nos. or less), $9, Muriel Peters; First Early Bird, $10, Helen Lee; Second Early Bird, $10, Nellie Thompson; Centre Game, $10, Elsie Henderson; First Share the Wealth, $10, Darlene Fearrey; Second Share the Wealth, $10, Marjorie Peel; Full Card Number 1, $12, Flo Henderson; Full Card Number 2, $10, Linda Morrison. The snowball was won by Helen Lee and Helen was very pleased with her $149.00 winning on her card. Congratulations to Mr.

and Mrs. Greg Cooper. The couple are now back from their honeymoon in the States and are making plans for their wedding dance, which will be held at the West Guilford Recreation Centre the evening of Saturday, May 1. Best wishes to you both.

May 14 is scheduled for a roast beef supper for the area's men bowling league at the centre. I know a good time will be had by all the men and their ladies.

Tables for the Canada Day flea market are being booked early by many vendors in the area. Reserve your table now, before they are all taken. Call this reporter to book your table while they are available.

Like to play euchre? The center would like to form a euchre club for all players in the area. The club will most likely meet once a week for all you "card sharks". Call this reporter if you are interested in joining this euchre club, and the more the merrier.

Monday morning, Harina Lynn called to tell me that a huge bull moose had just left her front yard and was strolling down the road toward West Guilford. The animal walked past the Silver Valley Store, the Griffins, and the Priest's home before he finally headed into the bush across from the Priest's house. Clayton Lynn says the tracks were eleven inches long. Wow! That's a lot of bull.

Carol Stamp saw a ring-neck pheasant in the field behind her house. Fortunately for the bird, the season is closed and Carol is also a bird-lover as well.

I heard that there was a terrible accident out Eagle Lake way this last week. An auto left the road and struck a hydro pole killing one person and injuring three others. I have no other details concerning the accident as it is still being investigated by the OPP.

Jack and Mary Sibthorp, of Long Lake, are back home after spending several weeks in the States visiting relatives. Welcome home, folks!

Household hints of the week:

- To offset the high cost of hydro or propane turn the thermostat down on your hot water tank. The manufacturers have them set at 150 degrees F which means you have to add cold water for a comfortable bath.

- A shower takes two-thirds less water than a bath thus saving on hydro to run your pump.

- Turn your wall thermostat down to 67 degrees F at night before turning into bed for the night.

- Fluorescent lights are much less expensive to use than regular light bulbs. They also last longer than bulbs. A 40 watt tube gives as much light as a 100 watt bulb.

That's all for this week, folks. Until next week, God bless, take care, and please drive with care.

HCHSS sponsors workshop

Haliburton County Home Support Services is sponsoring a leadership training workshop and is extending an invitation to every community-minded person in Haliburton County.

The one day workshop will be held at the PineStone Inn on Friday, April 30 and will begin at 9:30 with coffee. A noon luncheon is included and the cost is $3.

Films, role playing and discussion will provide participants with information on leadership in conducting meetings, organizing events, sports activities, fairs and other endeavours.

People wishing to attend are asked to call the Haliburton County Home Support office at 457-2941 and make a luncheon reservation.

Information kits will be provided by the sponsor of the workshop.

Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey, who seconded Lewis' motion, was critical of councillors' reaction to the open letter from the social planning council.

"Let's be grown up and intelligent about it, and give them $100 or whatever it is," Fearrey said.

The budget committee is expected to bring its decision back to county council's May meeting.

Rotary club work praised

The club has undergone changes over the 38 years history; however, the enthusiasm and dedication to the founding principles remains constant. In the words of David Bishop, the club's most valuable asset is that of the voluntary contribution of its members.

Wilberforce News

by Janet Barker

It is almost the first of May, and in almost all the lakes there's still a fair amount of ice floating about. Perhaps between sun and windpower there's a chance of it all disappearing so we can be dipping our toes by oh, say, the 5th or so? What? How can you suggest that's being a bit unrealistic? Why, just Sunday past an individual of unquestionable integrity reminisced about one unusually warm spring day when a few friends got together for a barbeque, and to cool off, swam out, touched the ice and hopped out again. And this was told with a straight face in front of a child! Ah, the signs of a crumbling civilization... See you on the beach by the 5th of July and not a day earlier!

Delicious food, a marble-cake mix of joy and sorrow - these were combined elements at the Community Centre a week ago Tuesday evening as friends and well-wishers got together for an evening in honour of Canon Moore Smith and his wife Violet. A royal banquet of home-made dishes delighted everyone's tastes; over and over again. (There was so much great food!). Wardens of St. Margaret's, Jim Ross and Bruce Gibbs welcomed everyone, and appropriately conveyed our regrets at the Smiths' parting, but expressed the belief that they indeed were moving according to the Lord's wishes, so that we felt blessed to have had them with us for these years. The household of Highlands Crossroads presented a skit based on the parable of the Good Samaritan which certainly elaborated on the basic message, and gave us all welcome food for thought. Rev. and Mrs. Smith were given a wooden platter bearing an up-to-date likeness of the church, complete with its new cross. The Smiths expressed their gratitude to everyone, as well as an invitation to visit them at their new home in Warsaw. A visit from a special Lion, Witch and Wardrobe topped off the evening of fellowship. They will be missed in our community, but certainly not forgotten - especially since they'll no doubt have many folks drop in on their way to Peterborough now and then.

A week ago Saturday a lovely going-away party was held at the Legion for past president Wally Marks and his wife Ruth. Tokens of everyone's friendship were presented in the form of beautiful flowers to Ruth, and an inscribed mug for Wally. Lively live musical entertainment combined with their traditionally terrific meal completed an enjoyable evening. We all add our best wishes to those expressed that night to the Marks in their new home.

This past Saturday everyone attending the Benefit Dance for Karen and Bill Scott at the Community Centre kicked up their heels to the music of Margie and the Country Gentlemen. Between the dancing, the visiting and the refreshments made available, a good time was had by all. Members of the Legion generously took care of the bar for the evening, and the Scotts thanked everyone for the help given after their misfortune.

Don't forget section: May 4, 10 a.m. Community Centre. Sponsored by the Haliburton County Home Support Services. It's a get-acquainted with the services available, especially the Meals-On-Wheels section day. It's a chance for everyone who wonders what the program is all about, and how it could involve them, to come out and find out. To give the organizers an idea of how many plan to be on hand for the luncheon to be served at noon, they would appreciate a call before hand, preferably by the 28th (which it must at least be if you're reading this), but mostly by the end of this week. These are the folks to contact: Wilberforce, Vicki Agnew, 448-2993, Jim Ross, 448-2645; Tory Hill, Maureen Finlay, 448-2667; Harcourt, Nancy O'Neill, 448-2496; Highland Grove, Gilbert Rowley, 448-2898; Cardiff, Jack Gedney, 339-2721. The day's agenda will go something like this, just to give you an idea: 10 a.m., coffee; 10:30-12:15, film and information sharing; 12:15-1:15, luncheon; 1:15-2:15, guest speaker - Dr. Joy Ballard, films.

During the winter months the members of the United Church share services in the Tory Hill church. Spring now being sprung, the South Wilberforce church will once again be holding services at 11:30 a.m., beginning this Sunday, May 2.

If you drop in to Glen's 10 to 10 some time this week only to see a 'Moved' sign, don't have a nic (or pop or donut) fit; just trudge on down to what was the Inter-City Tire garage and into what is now a convenience store location as well. Yes, he is a hard fellow to keep track of, but we'll attempt to notify you of relevant events. Beer bottles will also be returned there. Gas, bottles, groceries, but no laundry, shoe repair or saddle making. Next month, who knows...?

P.S. Ladies softball is underway once more - hurrah for spring!
